CBSR 2027 Membership Package

Benefits & Add-ons

CBSR

Your 2027 Membership Experience

Your CBSR membership gives your organization unlimited access to resources and opportunities to strengthen your sustainability strategy, connect with peers, and amplify your impact. This handout outlines what's included in your 2027 membership and how to make the most of it — plus optional ways to get more involved.

Annual Membership Fee: $12,500 (same as 2026 – company-wide rate regardless of team size).

Member Roundtables

Eight dynamic, knowledge-sharing sessions that bring members together to explore today's most pressing sustainability challenges, from climate and reporting to human rights, biodiversity, and supply chain resilience. Each session features expert speakers, practical tools, and peer discussions to inspire real action.

Monthly Policy Briefs

Ten times a year, CBSR delivers concise insights on emerging policy, regulatory, and disclosure trends across Canada, the U.S., and globally (with two combined editions covering July/August and December/January). Each brief highlights what matters for your business and is archived in the Member Portal for easy year-round reference.

CBSR Member Day

CBSR hosts a member-exclusive, in-person, full-day conference featuring experts, facilitated peer learning, breakout discussions, and strategic networking with other members. It's also an opportunity for an intergenerational session with youth leaders at our sister event, the Leading Change Summit. As a CBSR member, your company can send multiple attendees to Member Day.

Regional Meetups

In-person meetings and networking receptions designed to expand member companies' local professional circles while gaining insights from our member network. Regional Meetups celebrate member leadership, spotlight stories of progress, and bring together sustainability leaders from across Canada: Toronto, Ottawa, Montréal, Calgary, and Vancouver.

Peer Coaching Circles

Small, cross-sector groups (5–8 peers) matched by goals and experience. CBSR convenes the first meeting, and circles then self-organize to exchange ideas, challenges, lessons learned, and build trusted professional connections.

Virtual Pop-ups

Short, high-value virtual sessions on emerging issues — from new reporting standards to policy shifts. These "rapid-response" discussions help members stay ahead of change and share perspectives in real time.

Benefits & Add-ons

Delphi Consulting Hours

Access sustainability and climate expertise through CBSR's long-standing partner, Delphi. Members receive a 5% discount on new Delphi projects starting in 2027. For inquiries, contact Alice Martin alice.martin@profoundry.ca or Garrett Jones gjones@delphi.ca.

Library of Resources

Gain on-demand access to recordings, presentations, and member-only resources from CBSR events and partners. The digital library grows throughout the year and is available anytime through the Member Portal.

Additional offerings to support your 2027 priorities

Each year, you can choose from more program options to create a cost-effective membership package tailored to your current organizational needs and goals. Enhance your membership with targeted opportunities that go deeper on learning, collaboration, and impact.

Sustainable Procurement Fellowship – $2,975 + applicable taxes

(15% discount on the regular $3,500 program fee)

A five-month virtual leadership program, developed in partnership with HP Canada, that empowers sustainability and procurement professionals to integrate sustainability into purchasing decisions. Participants gain tools, strategies, and a strong peer network to drive change.

Climate 101 Lunch & Learn – $1,500 + applicable taxes

An interactive 45-minute virtual session introducing the fundamentals of climate change, business relevance, and practical actions companies can take. Ideal for building organization-wide climate literacy, from entry-level employees to executives. Sessions are tailored to each organization's context.

Leadership Summit (VP+) – $1,500 (member) / $1,799 (non-member) + applicable taxes

A high-level, invitation-only event bringing together executives and senior sustainability leaders from CBSR member organizations and non-members. A focused day of candid dialogue, expert speakers and real peer relationships for leaders navigating complexity.
